HARRY THE HR GUY

Harry is a typical Human Resources professional as he goes through his days. Many of these come from comments overheard or personal experiences. These were first used as part of iPlace Connect's e-commerce web site launched in 2012 that sold 12 resumes for $59 overnight. The business model did not work and our technology was poorly made, so we shut the service down in 2013. The cartoons live on and ex-clients still contact me asking for more.

It's too bad stupidity isn't painful.

I hate to criticize, but you've only been here two days and you're already three weeks behind.

Okay, I made a list of 50 things I need to do and prioritized them. Only problem is that 49 of them are ranked #1.

How would you describe your people skills?

I have 400 friends on Facebook.

If I accept advice from her, it's like she's my boss.

It's called collaboration and teamwork.

My keyboard doesn't work. It only types asterisks when I enter my password.

Please stop staring at me with that “I-told-you-to-make-backups-but-you-didn't”
look on your face.

To be a good leader, you need courage, patience, motivation and insight. If that doesn't work, bribe them with baked goods.

I would be a much better team player if they'd all go away and leave me alone.

With no marketing budget, I was only able to get celebrity look-alikes to recommend our products on Twitter.

I try to start every cell phone conversation with 'my battery is in the red' so they don't waste my time.

If we want to succeed as a team, we all need to set aside our petty agendas and do it my way.

I need to make a presentation about business ethics. If you don't have the time, just download something off the internet.

I think my girlfriend is dating me just for free tech support.

Go big or go home.

Unfortunately, most people are on the "go home" part of the spectrum.

Of course I have good people skills. What kind of stupid question is that?

Got a minute?

I know I'm about to lose a half hour of my life that I can never get back.

What's going on with that new hire?

He gave me a letter from his mother as his ID proof.

I hope your lack of training will make your incompetence look less obvious.

Why have you had six jobs in the past 5 years?

How do you think I managed to raise my salary to $125K a year?

I just finished interviewing that candidate.

Good! How did it go?

I want the last hour of my life back.

How would you like to go to lunch?

Alone.

This project will have no management support and no money. I think most of your day will be filled writing progress reports and answering stupid suggestions. Interested?

You're overqualified for this position.

Even my smartphone is overqualified for this position.

The problem isn't the computer; it's the part of your brain that handles intelligence.

Why didn't you hire that programmer?

He says he has 10 years experience in a language that just came out a year ago.

I don't read fiction. Unless you want to call your latest sales projections fiction.

How did the training go?

Based on our data, we were scammed.

80% of internet traffic in the office is online shopping sites. Do you want me to block them?

Heavens, no. I haven't found something for my wife yet.

Most people assume that I'm shy, without ever realizing that I just don't like them.

We did a background check and he said that the spell-check must have changed Upton Community College to Harvard.

Your spell-check had a nervous breakdown.
You may want to invest in a dictionary.

Time management is a great concept,
but frankly, who has the time for it?

Your touchscreen says you touched it in an inappropriate manner...

I like to think of everyone here as family.

Pfft. Would you make your mother work on a Saturday?

We have no budget for training, so we will continue with our “winging it” strategy.
